

Epilogue as Prologue

The Survivor challenges completed by this Health Literacy Consortium serve as models of active learning that you can replicate with your own class. The Appendix gives resources and ideas for expanding these lessons and/or adding new challenges of your own design. We hope your review of our work will be the prologue to your involvement in active health literacy projects that impact the length and quality of survival for today's North Carolina inhabitants.

The Health Literacy Consortium