“I want to make a difference and help people and nursing combines a lot of things I really like — such as science. I can see myself becoming a travel nurse. That’s my goal.”
DINH RIDER, BCCC LPN class of 2009

“I became a nurse because I enjoy helping people in a time of need. In nine years of bedside nursing, I’ve seen life begin and life end. I’ve seen illness and recovery.”
KENT DICKERSON, BSN ’95, MSN ’08, BCCC nursing instructor

“I chose to be a nurse because you can truly make a difference in people’s lives every day. Coming to BCCC to study nursing was probably the best career move I ever made.”
TRIP BLILEY, ADN ’04, behavioral health nurse at Beaufort County Hospital

Throughout history, men provided most of the nursing care and protection to the sick, wounded and dying — During the Crusades, military knights offered humanitarian aid and nursing care! During the American Civil War, most nurses were men.

Today, a growing number of men are choosing a nursing career for many different reasons. Nursing gives them the flexibility, freedom, and the opportunity to make a difference in people’s lives!

With a shortage of nursing that’s predicted to continue into the future, nursing offers job security and competitive salaries.

There are unlimited opportunities for advancement in nursing — You could become a health care executive, faculty member, research scientist or military officer.
