

Citizenship Family Feud

By Tommiann S. Hill
Rockingham Community College

Teaching Objective

To engage students in a PowerPoint version of Family Feud designed to help them remember material for the Redesigned Naturalization Test

Equipment

This game uses PowerPoint. You need a laptop and data projector (or equivalent equipment) in the classroom.

Directions

1. Divide the class into two teams that are evenly matched in English proficiency and number of participants.
2. The instructor is the game facilitator.
3. The facilitator reads the question to Team A.
4. Team A discusses the answer among themselves. When they come to an agreement, they call out their response.
5. If the response is correct, click on the numeral on the Power Point screen that matches the response on your Teacher's Key. Award the team the number of points that is displayed. If the response is incorrect, click on the RED circle...BUZZ.

- a. Be sure your sound is on.
- b. The Teacher's Key on the next page includes the answers, the (randomly assigned) number of points for each answer, and a list of additional correct responses for which students may earn 25 BONUS POINTS each.

6. Then it is Team B's turn.  Team B discusses the answer among themselves. When they come to an agreement, they call out their response. Back to Team A . . .

7. This process continues until the board is cleared. (Sometimes, you will need to give hints or encourage responses.)

8. A student can keep score using either a column of each team's points earned (to be totaled at the game's end) or a running tally of each team's score.

Points Earned	← Examples of Scoring →	Cumulative Totals
Team A		Team A
60		60
15		75
40		115
TOTALS 115
Team B		Team B
120		120
0		200
80
200

9. The team with the highest score wins!
